

WestEd, in collaboration with ATI, presents

Launching Instructional Transformation: A Workshop on Rapid School Improvement

A free introductory workshop providing guidance and resources to help you launch your school’s instructional transformation over the course of 90 days.

Launching Instructional Transformation aligns with WestEd’s Four Domains for Rapid School Improvement – core areas of focus for change efforts, each with critical, data-driven practices that help schools achieve rapid and sustainable improvement.

How best to get started with those improvement efforts and achieve some early wins is the focus of this new workshop for principals and leadership teams. WestEd, in collaboration with ATI, will present key strategies for how school leaders can quickly get improvement efforts underway, as outlined in the recently published Jump-Starting Instructional Transformation for Rapid School Improvement: A Guide for Principals from WestEd’s Center on School Turnaround.

Attendees will learn from experts in school improvement, instructional leadership, curriculum and assessment integration, and digital learning.

Date and Time

Tue, April 23, 2019
8:30 AM – 12:30 PM MST

Location

Flinn Foundation,
Conference Center
1802 North Central Avenue
Phoenix, AZ 85004

What you will learn:

- * Explore the instructional transformation cycle
- * Discover four early actions to launch rapid school improvement in 90 days
- * Learn the value of building an action team – the A-team
- * Explore ATI’s Galileo® K-12 comprehensive assessment system
- * Connect with fellow educators about steps they’ve taken to transform their schools

Registration is free. Visit bit.ly/wested20 to sign up. Space is limited.

For more information, contact Robert Rosenfeld at rosenf@wested.org.

WestEd workshops and services are grounded in the national Professional Standards for Educational Leaders and the Four Domains for Rapid School Improvement.

The Principal as Chief Transformer

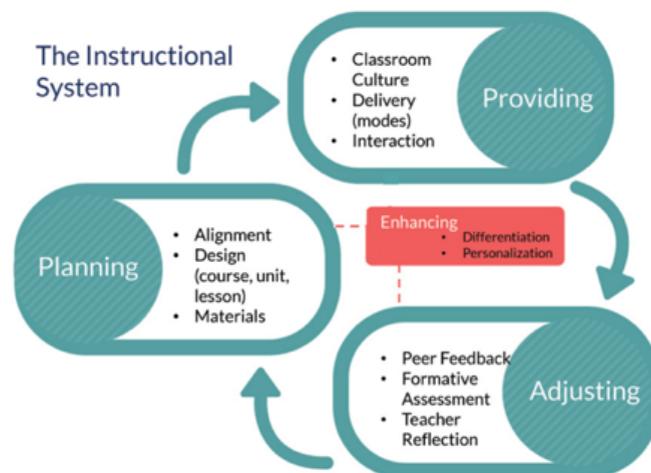

Learn about four early actions in planning instructional transformation, as outlined by WestEd's Center on School Turnaround.

1. Establish practice-focused collaboration
2. Map the instructional system
3. See through your students' eyes
4. Set the course for change

Led by highly skilled staff, Launching Instructional Transformation helps principals and leadership teams map the on-ramp for their school's instructional transformation.

Participants learn the importance of examining every aspect of their school's instructional system, a system that consists of planning, providing, adjusting, and enhancing instruction.

Stages and Sub-Stages of the Instructional System

Source: Redding, S. (2018). Instructional design. Philadelphia, PA: Center on Innovations in Learning at Temple University. Used with permission. (For this and many other resources, see <http://www.centeril.org>)

WestEd is a nonpartisan, nonprofit research, development, and service agency that partners with education and other communities throughout the United States and abroad to promote excellence, achieve equity, and improve learning for children, youth, and adults. WestEd has more than a dozen offices nationwide, from Massachusetts, Vermont and Georgia, to Arizona and California, with headquarters in San Francisco.

For more information, visit WestEd.org. We invite you to sign up for our semi-monthly e-newsletter, the WestEd E-Bulletin, to receive the latest research, free resources, and solutions from WestEd.

ATIs Galileo K-12 is a comprehensive research-based and standards-aligned system that provides a user-friendly approach to real-time, actionable integration of curriculum, assessment, and instructional effectiveness with helpful reporting tools. ATI is now part of the Imagine Learning portfolio of solutions.

To learn more about Galileo K-12, visit ati-online.com.